

Then 3 years of age Priya
Ran to the bedroom to pick up my glasses

Why would she run inside the house, I thought.
Let me check again I told myself.

Priya can you get me a teaspoon please.
She ran again to get me one!

It's then I stumbled upon a huge natural law.

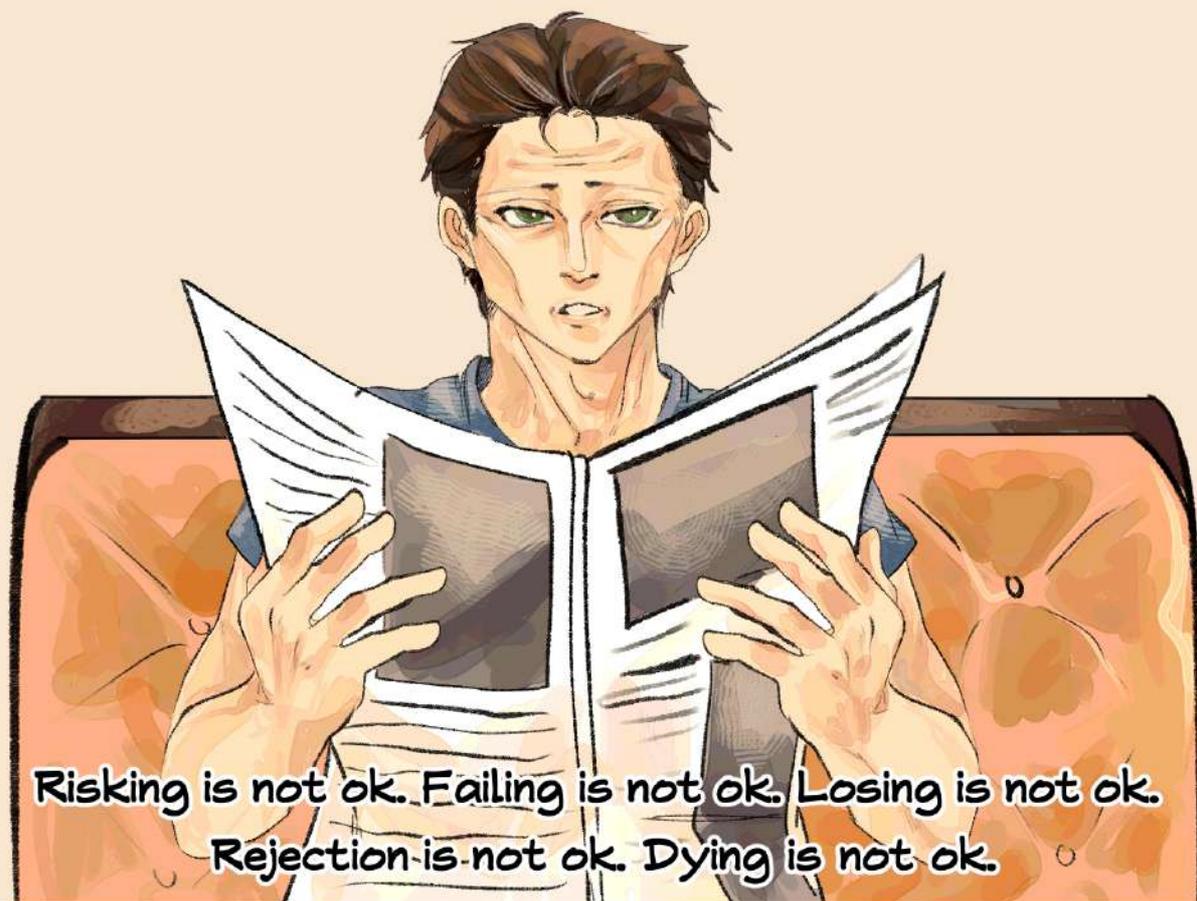

Children normally run.
It's we adults who make them walk.

And, healthy, able and normal children
Begin to think that falling is not ok.

Risking is not ok. Failing is not ok. Losing is not ok.
Rejection is not ok. Dying is not ok.

While playing safe is...

Coming to think of it,

The greatest risk that one can ever take is 'no risk'!
